Degree program

Please describe your public service work experience below (you must fill out this form: do not attach a Word document). The Derek Bok Public Service Prize is in recognition of volunteer work; you cannot list accomplishments related to your paid employment. It also must be for recent public service activities that overlap with your tenure as a Harvard Extension School student. You can list a maximum of three activities. With each activity, you must provide supporting documentation, such as newspaper articles, excerpts from organizational newsletters, or letters of recommendation. Please clearly label each supporting document with your name and role within the organization. We must receive this form, your one-page statement, and all documents in one packet by the nomination deadline. Late applications will not be considered. Poorly organized nominations that simply overwhelm the committee with mounds of paper will also not be considered.
